

West End Goes Green with Axxess Technologies

Axxess Technologies an electronics recycling company is partnering with West End Association in its effort to go green. As the first step in the district wide green program that will involve area businesses and property owners, Axxess will have a collection station at the Italian Festival on Ross Ave. in the Laz Parking lot next to YO Ranch Steakhouse. Axxess will be accepting old computers, servers, telephones, mobile phones, circuit boards, drives, cable/wire, IC's, network equipment, test equipment, memory boards, mainframes, printers, fax machines, copiers, scanners, monitors, non-ferrous metals, solder dross. So don't throw your old electronics in the dumpster, bring it to us. For more information about Axxess' recycling process and a list of items not accepted visit their website at www.axcesstech.net.
